Or get into them because it's time to make things warm for winter. It's like turning winter into summer to be provided with one of our new Winter Overcoats that are a picture of warmth and comfort. The season is not far advanced but for all that the figures are falling like early apples.
It is too chilly to wait when such opportunities are offered. You can gain nothing by delay except a last chance, and nobody wants that. Our stock covers the whole range of outer garments, Ulsters, Sack Overcoats, Pool Overcoats, etc. We are selling a good of men in the woods will average $16 to $22 a month, against $20 to $25 last year.

The high winds accompanied by flurries of snow reminds one that winter is upon us in earnest. Prepare for it.

The largest crowd we have seen in Yale for some time congregated here on Saturday last. The merchants all report a good trade.

Don't let children suffer with Croup, sands of cases, by using Hall's Hair Renewer, why will it not in your case?

The fall of the year is a trying season for elderly people. The many cheerless, dark, dismal days act de-pressingly, not to say injuriously, on both old and young. Now is the time to re-enforce the vital energies with Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood medicines.

Died, in Yale on Friday, November 10th, 1893, Fred, eldest son of David Barrett, aged 18 years, 8 months and 25 days—cause malarial fever. The funeral was held from the house on Saturday to the Brockway cemetery where the remains were laid away to rest. The entire community join with the sorrowing friends in their bereavement.

Next week statements of account will be sent out from this office to every subscriber in arrears. All accounts not settled up before January 1st, 1894, will be placed in the hands of an attorney for collection. We might add right here for the benefit of those two and three years in arrears that it takes more than wind to run a newspaper. Cash up.

The I. O. O. F. oyster supper last Friday evening was a very pleasant affair and greatly enjoyed. A short program was rendered consisting of happy, short speeches from Rev's.
Harrison and Perkins and W. H. Palmer, a pleasing solo from Wm. Saville and songs by Addie Palmer, Marcia Beecher and Julia Grinnell with Mabel Moore presiding at the organ. After the program oysters were served and much relished.

We regret that it seems necessary to call the boys attention who frequent the streets evenings, to their behavior, which certainly is none of the best.
The time for the boys to be on the streets loafing about the stores and corners and making evenings hideous with their noise and rude talk, is not all night. They should be at home and their parents should see that they are kept there. The street is not a good school for growing boys.

Ilda May, the two years and six months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
E. F. Law, of Port Huron, died on Monday, November 13th, 1893, of paralysis.
Two weeks ago the little one had a sore throat which was pronounced tonsillitis by the attending physician. The child recovered, but was taken suddenly ill Sunday night and became gradually paralyzed and died. The funeral was held from the house on Howard street at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, and was largely attended.

The most dangerous element with which society has to contend is the promiscuous gossip. From their slanderous tongue no one has any assurance of escape. Their chief delight is in breaking up families, ruining personal reputations, which it has taken years to build up, and sowing the seed of discord among their neighbors. They grab with alacrity at every morsel which will in any possible manner furnish food for their venomous tongues in weaving falsehood calculated to blast the hopes and ruin the prospects of others far more honorable than themselves. Their chief pleasure lies in listening to stories derogatory of their neighbors, and without stopping or caring to investigate the source from which they arise, or their truthfulness, they hasten with lightning-like rapidity to scatter them broadcast.
By the side of such individuals the murderer or the highwayman is a gentleman.—Ex.

The talk by Rev. Harrison on what he saw at the World's fair was given Wednesday evening to a small sized attendance and was most interesting.
We hope Mr. Harrison will be encouraged to give another shortly.

Elder Paton will preach in the Brick Chapel in this village next Sunday afternoon, November 19, (instead of two weeks later), at 3:00 and 7:00 o'clock.
Subjects: "The Inner Life," and "The Resurrection." All are cordially invited to attend.

It is no easy thing to dress harsh, coarse hair so as to make it look graceful or becoming. By the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor, this difficulty is removed, and the hair made to assume any style or arrangement that may be desired. Give the Vigor a trial.

Richard Turner having rented his farm will offer for sale by public auction at the premises two miles south and one and one-half miles west of Yale on Friday, November 17th, a lot of farm stock and implements. Sale to commence at one o'clock. W. W.
Lord, auctioneer.

In last week's issue of the Excursion a neat and attractive ad., in reference to the celebrated Red Cross brand of stoves, appeared for the rushing hardware firm of Francis & Mapes. On Saturday last they sold no less than six of those stoves. Truly judicious advertising does pay.

FOR SALE—A house and lot on Main street. The house is well built, nicely laid out on inside, and comfortable.
Good well of water, cistern and other conveniences. Barn on rear of lot.
Also an organ almost new for sale.

The oldest inhabitant and other reliable authorities say that this is going to be a hard winter. The forecast is based on the facts that corn husks are thicker than usual; that the nut crop has been immense; and that the wild fowl are going south in flocks shaped like the letter 'V', and not like the letter 'Y'. Why these various facts should have any influence on next winter's weather does not clearly appear; but that they have an influence all the oracles are agreed.

P. H. Reedy, one of Emmet's foremost business men, died Wednesday evening, Nov. 8th, after a protracted illness. Mr. Reedy has conducted a general store at Emmet for eleven years, and was very highly esteemed by all who knew him. Mr. Reedy had never married, but leaves a brother, Thos. Reedy, of Kenosha, and four sisters, Mrs. Jas. Haley and Mrs. Edward Breen, of Kenosha; Mrs. Rufus Gale, of Cleveland and Mrs. Jas. King, of Ravenna, O. The funeral services were held from the Kenosha Catholic Church at 10 o'clock a. m. Friday.

Fred Slocum of the Caro Advertiser, has been figuring it out and he says:
"Country newspaper publishers are very like people who hustle for a subsistence in any other way. If you do them a favor they return it, if you are kind to them they appreciate it, and they are friendly to their friends, for why should they not be. They resemble their fellow creatures in another way. They will not expend money time and brains in explaining to the public what a fine fellow and enterprising citizen Jones is, when Jones will not spend a few cents in supporting their paper. If Brown, the mechanic or laborer, is in want of a job they do not feel like paying postage, and worrying their friends and patrons to procure him a position when Brown —who thinks nothing of smoking or drinking 50 cents in one evening—is not a subscriber to the paper. In fact they are like the rest of the human family, they stick to those who stick to them; they support those who support them; and if a fellow kicks them they are likely to kick back, once or twice if possible."

Heat and Light!

Two of the most necessary things of this world, and our mission this fall is to furnish it to the public at the lowest possible price in the shape of Stoves and Lamps.

A GOOD WIFE

would be a much better wife if she had a stove that would burn and bake well also one that would be easy to keep clean and did not need too much care. Our stoves fill the bill exactly and you would not be GIVEN AWAY

by your friend if he did a neighborly act and recommended our Celebrated Red Cross Ranges which are wood savers from away back. A large package of genuine satisfaction goes

WITH EVERY STOVE.

DO NOT

fail to remember that we are the acknowledged leaders in light givers. Our line of Lamps and Lanterns is complete and they are being sold at prices within the reach of all. Now the Holiday Season is near at hand so

ESCORT YOUR GIRL

or wife, as the case may be, down to our store and examine our line of Beautiful Hanging Lamps for what is nicer or beautifies a room more than a Handsome Lamp? Or, if a husband, give him a shining light and make chore time a pleasure

WITH A LANTERN.
